

Apollo NightFish 1200lm Flashlight

The Apollo NightFish 1200 Lumen Flashlight is a high-intensity tactical illumination device engineered for military, maritime and field operations requiring reliable, high-output lighting in low-visibility environments. Delivering up to 1200 lumens of powerful white light, the NightFish provides strong beam penetration suitable for night operations, vessel boarding, equipment inspection and emergency response scenarios.

Constructed from durable, corrosion-resistant materials, the NightFish is designed to withstand harsh marine and operational environments. Its compact and ergonomic body allows for secure grip and ease of use while wearing gloves. The light is optimised for both surface and maritime applications, delivering dependable performance when durability, brightness and reliability are critical.
